His Excellency,
The Most Reverend George John Rehring, S. T. D., Bishop of Toledo,
our honored guest at graduation

Dedication

To you, the Crest of Notre Dame, which signifies the ideal characteristics attributed to a true Notre Dame girl, we, the seniors, dedicate this production — our symbol of devotion to Our Lady's school.

May this book be a tribute, first of all, to your five-pointed star and tossing waves, emblematic of Mary, our guiding star through the troubled waters of life.

We bestow honor upon your golden eagle, symbol of the spiritual vision and vigilance acquired by each true student of the academy.

To your lion rampant we express our appreciation for the spirit of fortitude and spiritual courage which we shall strive to possess throughout our lives.

Your lily, the badge of purity and modesty, has been held up to us as the outstanding characteristic of each Notre Dame girl.

Thus, to you, Notre Dame's Coat-of-Arms, and to the virtues which you symbolize for us throughout the years, we seniors dedicate this work of love.

Staff Managers

Expressions of interest and contemplation cover the faces of these industrious senior staff members of the 1962 REGINA as they listen to the instructions of year-book advisor, Sister Mary Marilyn, S.N.D., Seated around the table in the foreground are Mary Ann Freppe, Veronica Henshan, Alice Kruse, and Ellen deRaedt. Seated in the background are Barbara Dugan, Sharon Clement, Sharon Wesson, and Carol Connolly and Marie Daoust. Standing are Susan Stewart, Barbara Mankowski, Bernadette Gerber, and co-editors Ellen Maynard and Kathleen Bova.

Brainstorming and coordinating Sherry Robison, Sharon Westerman, Marianne Scheller, Joyce Klingaman (at front table), and Judy Baranoski, Jeanne Straub, Ann McDermott, Mary Waltman, Christine Rawski, and Barbara Ashburn comprise the organizing committees of the staff.

At the typewriter Theresa Gross and Mary Grace Reardon check their work. Sister Mary Rosarita managed the business of the yearbook this year. Catherine Noble and Judith Drewicz are at the files as Catherine Lewandowski, Joan Moran, and Patricia Kwasniak get the pasted pages ready for the mail.

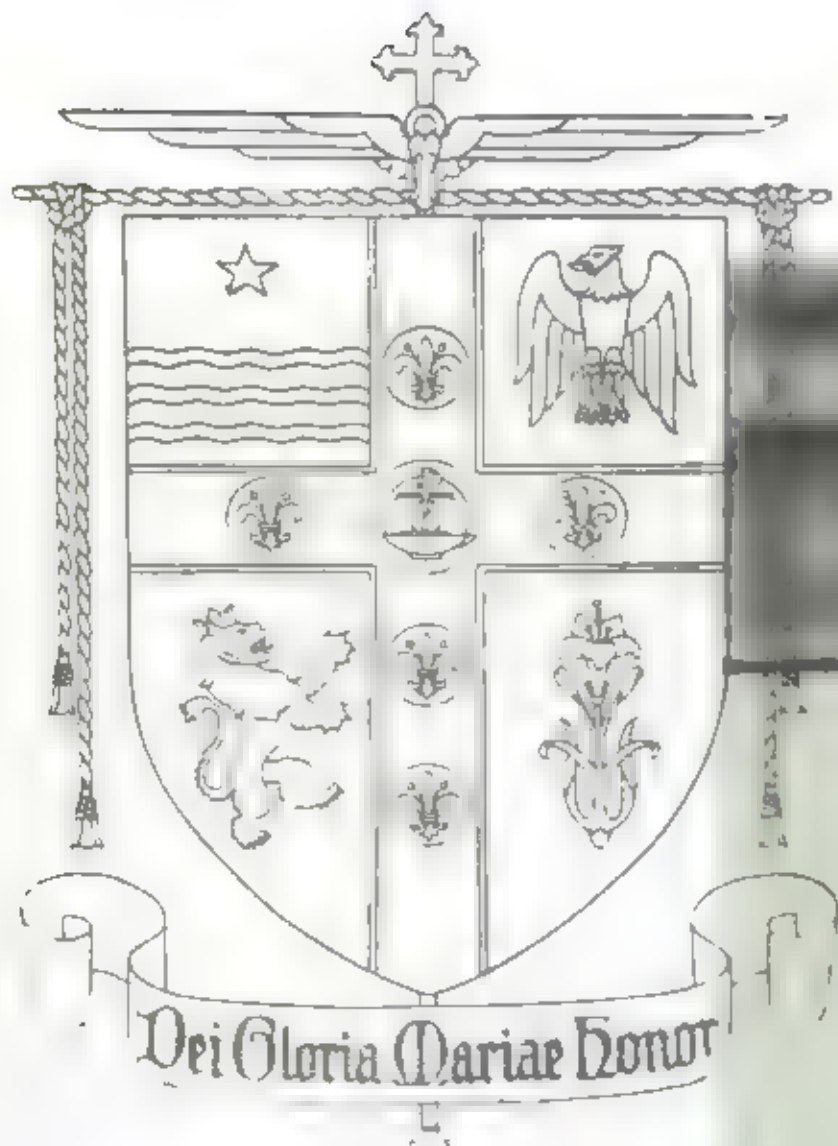

We open our story . . .

story of life at Notre Dame

. . with the beginning of our day.

All hail to thee, loved Notre Dame.
 As Alma Mater we're proud thee to claim,
 Thy loyal daughters we'll ever be
 We pledge, Alma Mater, allegiance to thee.
 In hallowed memory, enshrined in each heart,
 Are all the great lessons thou strovest to impart.
 Then hail! Thrice hail!
 We'll ever be true to thee and our banner of gold and blue.
 Then hail! We'll ever be true to thee, Notre Dame.

Should ever pleasure's siren lay
 Tempt us from duty's path to stray,
 Or sorrow darken life's rugged way
 Then Faith be our guide, our light and star
 Reflecting through life thy virtues so rare,
 We'll crown thee with honor for thy loving care.
 Be life's way obscure or up heights of fame,
 We'll never forget thee, loved Notre Dame.

Down ages still in rapturous song
 May grateful daughters the strains prolong
 'Till eternal portals open wide
 With thee loved Queen fore'er to abide.
 At that great reunion of Notre Dame,
 We'll sing in grand chorus the old refrain:
 "All hail to thee, Our Lady most fair,
 We'll glory forever thy name to bear
 Dear Queen, O deign to bless us thy children.
 Loved Mother, loved Notre Dame."

Wisdom and knowledge, symbolized by the lamp on Notre Dame's shield, are the objectives of every school. Notre Dame Academy's curriculum offers a variety of classes to develop all skills.

From English to foreign languages, from science and mathematics, commerce and home economics, through art and music, the light of faith in God and in their own individual abilities prompts Notre Dame students to diligence in their studies and interest in their work.

Religion-The art of loving, knowing God more fully

From the other side of the rostrum, the expressions of the retreatants are intent

Retreat just over underclassmen pause and reflect at an inspiring bulletin board

Training teen-age girls for righteous living, intellectual power, and true refinement by bringing Christ and His Ideals into the daily lives of the students is the culmination of the teachings of Notre Dame. Religion, not only in religion class, but in every phase of high school education, is the most essential training of all.

Under the guidance of the homeroom advisors, students study from a four-year series titled Our Quest for Happiness. Three days of contemplative silence with God, the annual spiritual retreat, form the core of religious training.

When graduation finally arrives, a Notre Dame girl is assured of a firm and reverent knowledge of her Catholic faith.

History — Knowledge of past and...

Man is a social being. Through social studies students learn the social, political, economic, and religious feats or defeats of mankind. In fact, history is so fundamentally important that it has been eloquently called "the final judge of our deeds."

History unrolls a stream of events more colorful than any piece of fiction. In this day and age, especially, when man holds in his mortal hands the power to obliterate all forms of human life, it is vital to be historically informed so that both sides can join in creating what President John F. Kennedy called "... a new world of law, where the strong are just and the weak secure and the peace preserved."

Ancient history, world history, American History, and American government and sociology comprise the social studies department at Notre Dame.

Sister Mary Delphine, Sister Mary deSales, Sister Mary Immaculate, Sister Mary Immaculate, Sister Mary Therese, and Sister Mary Vincent conduct the history classes.

Freshman world history students Carol Darr, Carol Heimg, and Carol Clay, with the use of their imagination and a globe, travel to a foreign land everyday

...present, for our future

Engrossed in a National Problems panel discussion are seven seniors. They are Mary Ellen Ott, Ellen Maynard, Alice Kruse, Chairman Mary Ann Zmijewski, Clara Bihn, Dianne Bick and Jeanne Straub.

English ~

Familiarity with the world of prose and poetry

Second in importance only to religion is the four-year English course required at Notre Dame. Through the efforts of the English teachers, the girls become even better acquainted with their native language.

The freshman year stresses correct grammar. Sophomores learn to develop unified, coherent, emphatic sentences. Juniors struggle with paragraph unity and themes. Seniors exercise their abilities to produce effective writing in each of the four major categories: exposition, description, narration, and argumentation. Literature is discussed and studied, too, especially during the last two years.

Notre Dame is always ready for progress, and this year a new paperback entitled Words of Power was introduced to help build college-level vocabularies.

Sister Mary Raymund's American literature class read from their books "The Road Not Taken" by Robert Frost.

Robert Frost

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that the passing there
Had worn them really about the same,

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.

I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I—
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

Foreign Languages —

Intelligence runs high in Sister Mary Immaculate's senior Latin class. The attentive students are Phyllis Ehrman, Betty Kramer, Ann Kreinbrink, Margaret Brown, Mary Jo Toll, and Claudia Hook.

"To understand but one language is to hear but one tone of a symphony." Communication today links city to city, state to state, country to country, as it never has before.

Keeping in tune with this modern communication trend, Notre Dame provides studies in Latin, French, and Spanish, taught by Sister Mary Alfred, Sister Mary Aloise, Sister Mary Clarice, Sister Mary Dalene, Sister Mary Elvira, Sister Mary Immaculate, Sister Mary Immaculee, and Sister Mary Kathline.

A special language "laboratory" houses new equipment to facilitate the teaching of these languages.

Whether you parlez en francais, loqueris Latinam linguam, or habla Espanol, any new language gives to those who study it a key to the history and traditions of an entire nationality. This common language bond provides for a more closely-knit, unified world.

The first step around the world

No castanets or big sombreros, but Sister Immaculee and her Spanish students are engrossed in conjugation and punctuation.

Second-year Latin students Alice Potoczki, Mary Heintz, Kathy Couturier, Donna Kujawa, and Linda Hoffman conduct an informal discussion on the Roman Empire.

Irene Urrutia instructs the Spanish class in the finer points of the Mexican Hat Dance. The girls are: Christine Granata, Kathe Bova, Mary Deborah Utton, Ruth Nagle, and Marlene Moore

"Now I'm sure you know the answer," says Sister Mary Clarice to French I students Sandra Arendt, Sandra Avery, and Jeanne Demski

Parlez-vous francais? At the conclusion of their first-year French course these girls, Marlene Shiple, Diane Gable, Marianna Whitman, Joan Heiml, Elaine Carrico, Barbara Fajkos, and Maxine Hook, hope to master at least the pronunciation of this romantic language.

Speech - The art of proper self-expression

Dianne Avery endeavors to illustrate the fine points of that ever popular adjective, aggressive, in senior speech class.

Whoever said that speech is "your God-given gift to shape thought" helped to summarize the essence of the speech department at Notre Dame. Composed mostly of seniors, the speech classes, under the direction of Sister Mary Clarice, strive for correct speaking whether it be in a special talk, a dramatization, a radio script, or choral speaking. Seniors learn that empathy is the keynote of a really successful interpretation.

It is a rare student, indeed, who fails to make use of the poise, assurance, and self-discipline gained through speech. Speech helps students to develop proper self-expression, fluency in conversation, and natural self-confidence in public speaking. That makes it a truly worthwhile investment for life.

Journalism

Planning layouts, digging up stories, writing and rewriting to achieve news style, typing, proofreading, concocting headlines to count just right, pasting up stories tailored to fit exactly, reading page proofs—then, finally, after four weeks of work, the journalism class sees another issue of The Notre Dame roll off the press.

One senior and thirteen juniors, advised by Sister Mary Marilyn, carry the burden of trying to meet the deadlines for five issues. As for their success—that can only be measured by the student body on the days when a brand new issue of The Notre Dame is distributed. Sister Mary Rosarita and second-year typing students type over 800 envelopes for each mailing.

It takes a lot of work to put out a four-page issue, but the journalists know as they write the news—past and future for this school year—that it is the power of the printed word to live on. Years from now, they know, their issues, along with the Regina, will be the chronicle of Notre Dame for 1961-62.

Next issue in the making

Working diligently on preparations for the next issue of The Notre Dame are (seated) Cle O'Kelley, Shirley Madden, Lavone Reed, and Linda Wenninger. Joan Heint and Kathy McFarland seem somewhat perplexed at the changes Nancy Nadorff, editor-in-chief, is suggesting.

Shirley Madden and Kathy McFarland re-check important copy for The Notre Dame.

Beauty inspires beauty. Senior art students are Carol Connolly, Barb Dugan, Julia Glyda, and Ellen deRaedt.

Susan Ockuly senior looks more interested in that hand than in her lettering work during third-year art class. At least Barbara King, junior, appears to be working!

Art — God inspires man to create beauty

To know art is to know one of the highest forms of genuine culture. To be able to see beauty where others see distortion, and to see artistic simplicity where others see insignificance, and to experiment with your own innate originality which others might call a far-fetched dream are the characteristics of an art student.

With the help of Sister Mary Genevra and Sister Mary Ruth Ann the Academy offers an excellent four-year art program which includes art history, enameling, painting, lettering, sculpture, mosaic design, water coloring, and countless other techniques and student innovations. Facilities in the art room are keyed to the diversified activities of the academy's junior "Rembrandts."

Those who have steadfastly followed the four-year art course at Notre Dame have not only procured invaluable knowledge, but through their work, have opened the doors to choice careers in art.

Freshmen art students Cheryl Benore and Kathleen Tripp are hard at work, or at least Kathy is. Cheryl's waiting for an inspiration.

Sandra Glow admires some of the talent displayed by the sophomore art class.

Math — Stimulation for the mind...

"But this is the fifth time we've done this problem," say freshmen mathematicians Diane Meyers and Dianne Zawodny.

Contrary to the beliefs of most teenagers, a career in mathematics can be stimulating and very worthwhile. Although math majors are few and far-between, Notre Dame maintains a well-rounded curriculum including Algebra I, advanced algebra, plane geometry, solid geometry, trigonometry, basic math, and even business math.

The instructors, always eager to aid a perplexed math student, are Sister Mary Angelus, Sister Mary Brendan, Sister Mary Danielle, Sister Mary Raymond, and Sister Mary Vincent.

At least two years of math are required according to school standards, but those who are willing to accept the challenge of the harder types of mathematics learn how to think profoundly, analyze deeply, and come to know the art of being exact — which is what mathematics is.

...to increase thinking power

Yesterday to God's mercy ✨ ✨

Today to His love ✨

Kathleen Collins seems to be having trouble getting her point across to Gretchen Sawyer during another "rigorous" session in geometry class.

Faith Pountney and Susan Toye listen with a look of puzzlement to an explanation of their mistakes. Come on Faith, trig's simple once you know what you're doing

Mary Brown, what are you thinking of? Slide rule equations—like Nancy Falkowski and Rosemary Sadoski?

Business Education ~

Where accuracy and speed count most

Click, click, click! Tap, tap, tap! Everything remains precise and rhythmic in the business education department. Courses in typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, and office practice are responsible for turning out the ever-efficient, much-desired secretaries or office workers of Notre Dame.

Sister Mary Dalene, Sister Mary Jon, Sister Mary Rosarita, department head, and Mrs. C. Knarr instruct the girls in the resourcefulness and accuracy required of business majors.

Careers in business education can be very rewarding, as well as practical. Mastery of such manual skills proves a valuable asset in job-hunting or married life.

Armed with proper equipment, a worthy incentive, and a spontaneous smile, a business education major is destined for success.

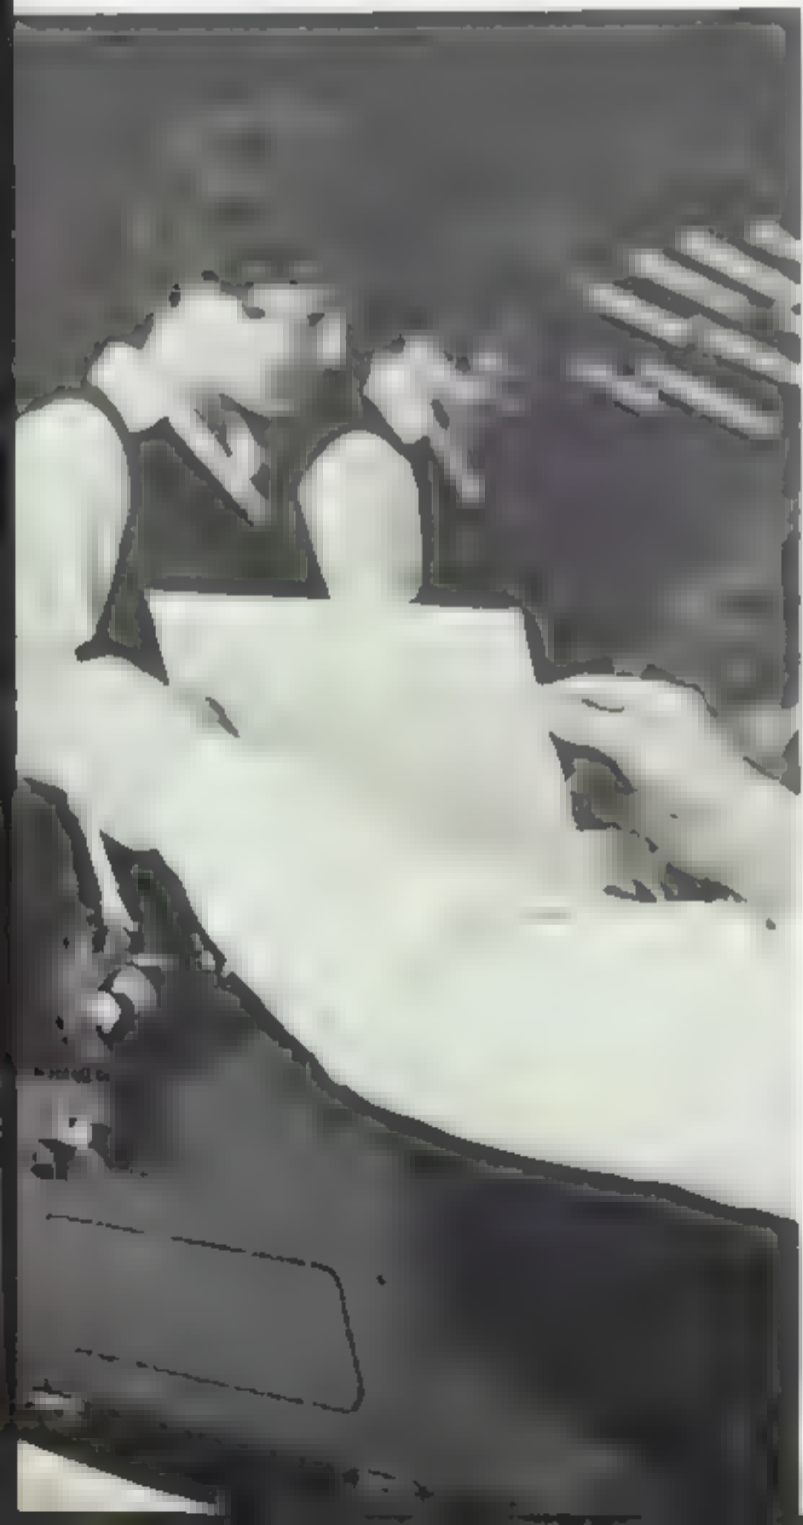

While Helen Huber reads from her shorthand book, Charlene Roy, Patricia Miller, Joan Heini, and Patricia Cessna follow attentively in their book.

Future Doctors of America? No, they're seniors Ann McDermott, fascinated with the dictaphone, and Pat Kwasniak, Mary Waltman, and Marilyn Klein looking over their finished work

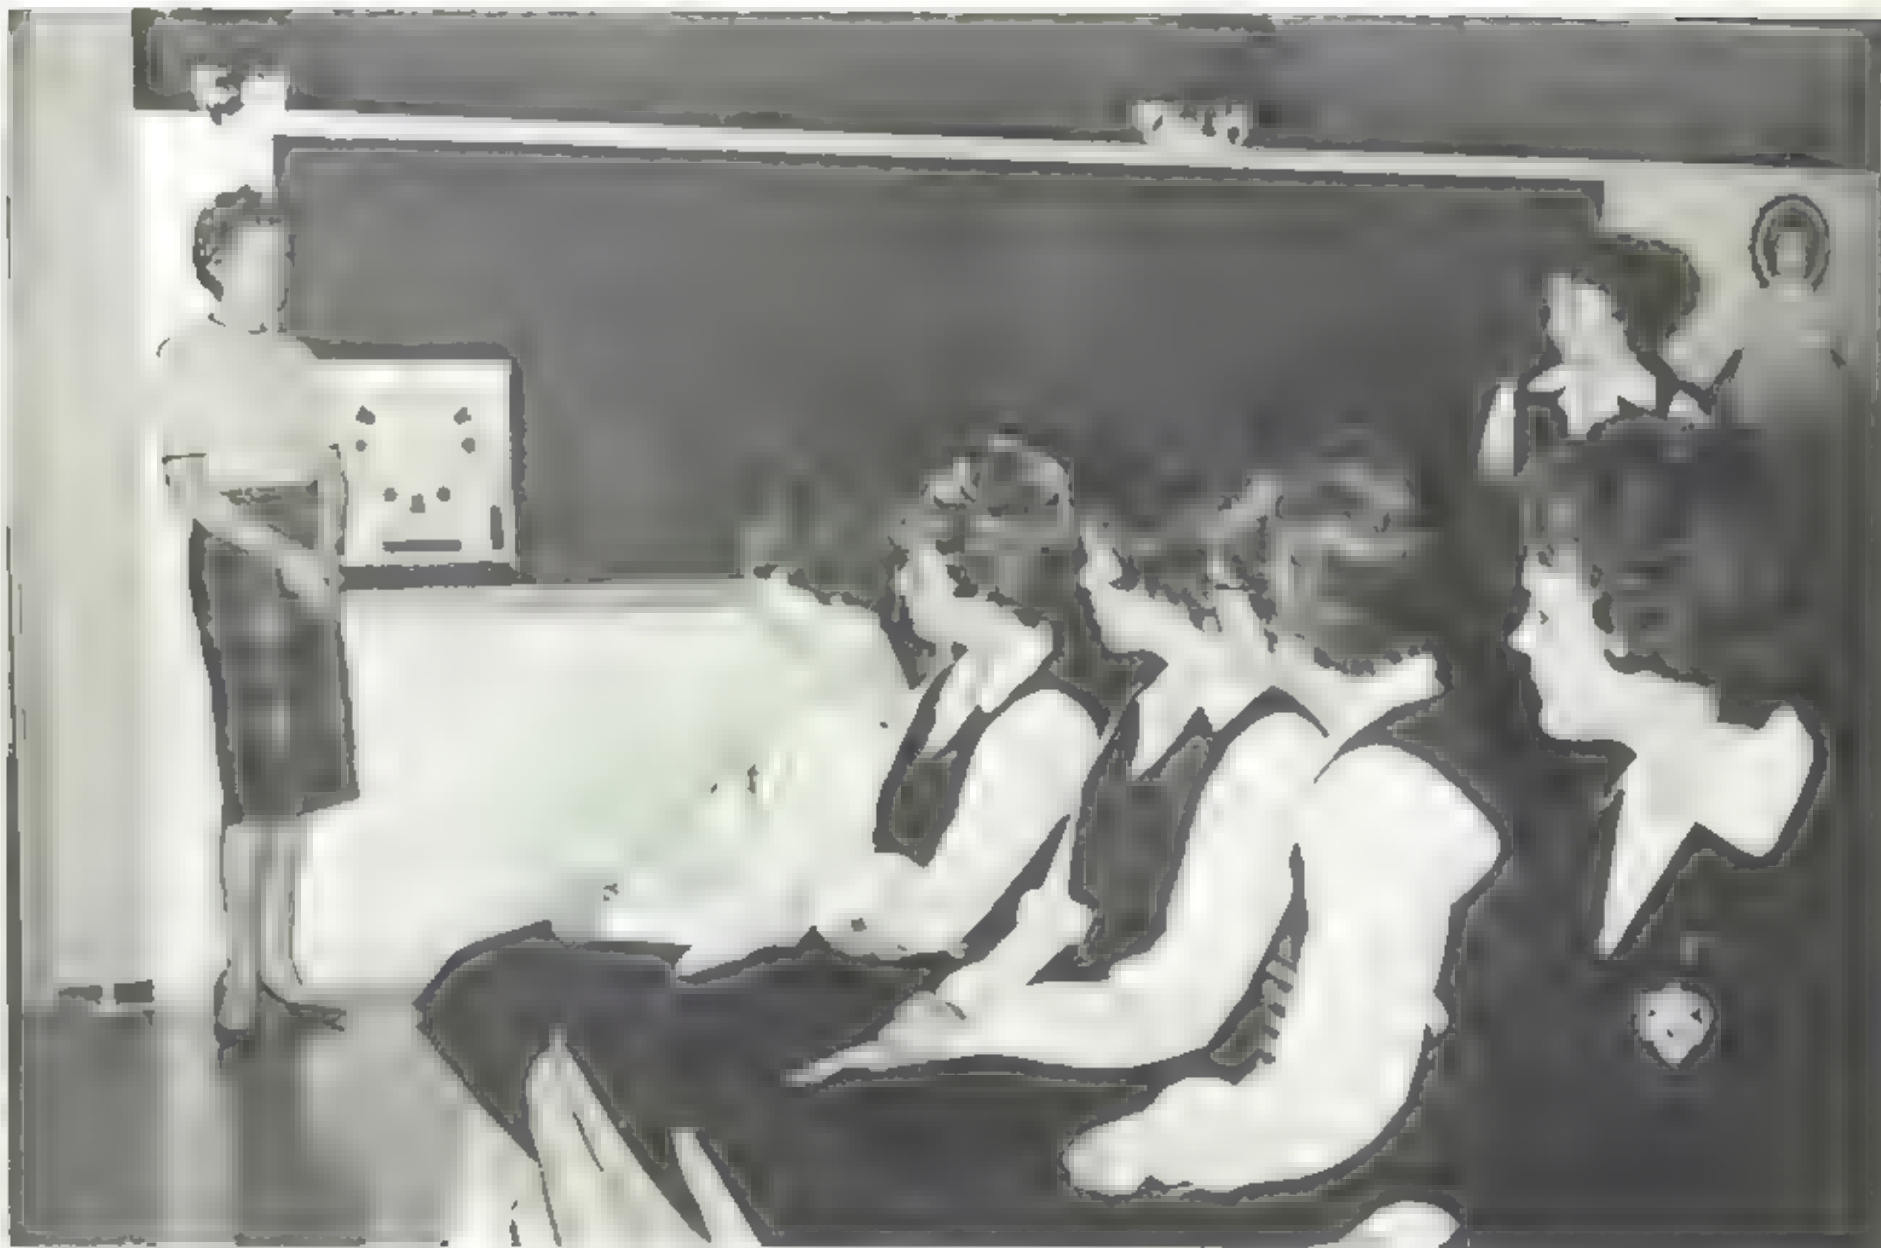

Anyone for adding? Barbara Mankowski, assisted by Mary Alice Ludden and Lois Lewandowski, is trying to arrive at the mathematical number of 436.67. Keep trying girls!

Elizabeth Garcia demonstrates her dexterity on the typewriter. Keep those keys tapping, Elizabeth!

To be successful homemakers is the goal of these home arts students as they attentively listen to the advice of Betty Newton. They are Eileen Collins, Sharon Westerman, Nancy Chambers, Dianne Avery, Jill Powell, and, standing, Mary Berning.

Home Arts — Preparing to apply . . .

It looks as if Margie Goulding is getting ready to aim her cookie dough at industrious Marianne Scheller. Better watch out Margie, Lois Petsche is standing right behind you with a handful of you-know-what!

"Sewing machines are a sheer mark of genius," remarks Jill Powell as she looks at her almost completed work. It seems as if Joan Moran is having troubles.

the "woman's touch"

Sue Kujawa and Mary Schneider play "Grab the Cookie Dough" as Corinne Baumgartner busily places the finished products on the cookie sheets.

Since the proximate vocation for the majority of high school girls will eventually be marriage, a girl can hardly find more practical courses for her future than those offered in the Home Arts department.

Sister Mary Albertus and Sister Mary Margaret Ann assist their students in learning about such basic subjects as foods and nutrition, and clothing.

Savory whiffs that drift up from the Home Arts kitchen are pure delight to the student body. At the year's end clothing students have a chance to model the fashionable outfits that they have added to their wardrobes in a special style show, much to the enjoyment of the other students.

A girl with a solid backing of courses in Home Arts is better prepared to assume the all-important role of a loving and talented Catholic wife and mother.

Science — Probing the mysteries of matter...

Through science God reveals His power and majesty in its minutest form. Science courses at Notre Dame delve into these secrets and help students understand the amazing complexity of creation.

Qualified science instructors, Sister Mary Lorenzo, Sister Mary Angelus, and Sister Mary Danielle, help the girls to probe the many mysteries of biology, physiology, chemistry, and physics.

This year Notre Dame had the distinction of receiving the Frederick H. Kreckler Award for the northwest district of Ohio. The award, an engraved plaque, and a check for $150 was presented to the school for the quality of the science instruction and equipment, qualifications of the teachers, and the co-operation between faculty and students.

Notre Dame's future naturalists admire the beauty of nature that is around school. The girls are Dianna Jarvis, Mary Parker, Alice Kreinbrink, Kathleen Tompkins, Kathleen Faist, and Mary Janet Getzinger.

Biology students Mary Lou Bundschuh, Dianne Calmes, Therese Hemmeter, Sylvia Kaminski, and Kathleen Grime fearlessly study the wonders of a sponge

Future Scientists? Ann Cataldo, Janice Janowiecki, Cheryl Essex, and Constance Wilhelm are proving it's mind over matter

Bunsen burners and test tubes are familiar equipment to chemistry students Christine Burgard and Priscilla Hug

. . . Analyzing their findings

Sister Mary Danielle shows her class how to test for radioactivity by using a geiger counter. The girls are Kathe Bova, Janice Carrico, Alice Kruse, and Maureen Hartley. Now girls, is it really that serious?

Physiology students Barbara Dugan, Sandra Trautman, Jeanne Straub, Bernadette Jagodzinski, and Mary Elyse Zam eagerly await Betty Guzicki's explanation of the digestive system.

It you're wondering what Betty is holding, it's "Dead Earnest's" liver.

Junior and senior eager eaters enjoy N D specials on 'Civitan Day' (No uniforms, that is)

Complementing the spacious and important classrooms at Notre Dame Academy, are two rooms whose functions are the intellectual and physical liveliness of the school.

Notre Dame's library, containing over 8,000 books consisting of reference material, novels, biographies, magazines and other forms of literary material, is a haven for studious and conscientious students and teachers alike.

The cafeteria, often referred to as a "dining" or "banquet" hall, offers space for 400 girls.

Making use of NDA's excellent library facilities are freshmen Joan Elekonich and Mary Lee Auth.

It takes many people to make a world it is often said, and it likewise takes many voices to make beautiful music. The members of our senior choral club are as follows

Row I: Candace Lunn, Judith Sebright, Roberta Kwapich, Marjorie Bihn, Rosemarie Schneider, Kathleen Couturier, Nancy Meyer, Sandra Schoen

Row II: Barbara Borer, Mary Crowley, Paulette Boczek, Jacqueline Youngblood, Mary Lou Daoust, Judith Syperski, Jacqueline Winckowski, Lucille Fajkos,

Chris Loder

Row III: Marygrace Chovanec, Judith Wagner, Janet Scheller, Rebecca Fischer, Janet Borgerson, Rosemary Smith, Margaret Landowski, Judith Wawrzyniak, Ann Marie Kusz, Susan Ramsey

Row IV: Sharon O'Brien, Mary Brown, Jane Neubauer, Carol Paterniti, Anne Marie Heintschel, Patricia Mocek, Kathleen Frazier, Sharon Wesson, Sandra Peatee, Bernadette La Vigne, Elizabeth Guzicki, and Mary Lynn Brennan.

Glee Club — "Voices in harmonious echoes"

Row I: Shari Marsh, Margaret South, Ann Le Plante, Jean Tate, Mary Lynn Schenck, Zita Zatkuti, Mary Heintz

Row II: Barbara Bitterman, Yvonne Furry, Christine Wayton, Nancy Bitterman, Margaret Fisher, Kathryn Fink, Patricia Rutkowski, Maxine Hook, Marilyn Busee;

Row III: Mary Parker, Linda Kolinski, Patricia Quell, Barbara Jacob, Kathleen Craft, Barbara Madrzykowski, Suzanne Restivo, Mary Janet Getzinger, Sharon Bishop;

Row IV: Kathleen Antoine, Mary Ann Zmijewski, Phyllis McCorristin, Patricia Saeli, Colleen Gilbert, Dianne Willard, Darlene Klein, Coletta Bihn, Ruth Lopinski, Kathleen Collins, and Susan Toye

The gift of song is one of the most prized possessions a girl can have. When 211 such girls combine to form a glee club, the results must be enjoyable. Glee club directors Sister Mary Delphine and Sister Mary Rosalee initiate the freshmen songstressess in their Freshman Chorus, and also supervise the Notre Dame Chorus Club for sophomores, juniors, and seniors.

Chorus club members learn both deep, emotional songs and the periodic, light, novel tunes which have always been enjoyed the world over. With a score of such vocal arrangements, the Glee Club performs for many school functions. The climax of their achievements is the spring concert.

Through choral music the students convince their audiences that harmony is not only enjoyable, and sometimes difficult, but also truly an art.

January 30, was a special day for the girls at Notre Dame Academy as the University of Dayton Band came to entertain. An afternoon assembly provided the girls with an enjoyable as well as cultural experience.

Health — Physical stability

After five minutes of effort, sophomore gym students pyramid to success. Aspiring acrobats include top, Judith Meyer, Kathleen Collins; middle, Marlene Schroeder, Patricia Burwell, Diana Gabriel; bottom, Alice Potoczki, Rebecca Baker, Joyce Czoigosz, and Cynthia Perry.

America will remember this year as the year President Kennedy emphasized the need for physical fitness. To be of sound mind emotionally and of sound body physically contributes to well-balanced Christian living.

Proper health instruction is afforded the freshmen by Sister Mary Carroll, Sister Mary Jon, Sister Mary Rosalee, Sister Mary Vincent, and Mrs. Nancy Kirchner.

Both freshmen and sophomores are required to take gym. The underclassmen take part in a gym program including basketball, volleyball, calisthenics, and square dancing. In any event, everyone enjoys wholesome, competitive fun.

Essentially, the health program aims to form better students, and, still more important, alert citizens for a better society.

Under the direction of Mrs. Kirchner, instructor sophomores limber up for gym class. They are 1st row Joyce Czoigosz, Judith Meyer, Kathleen Collins, 2nd row Rebecca Baker, Diana Gabriel, Patricia Burwell; 3rd row: Alice Potoczki, Cynthia Perry, and Jane Herkender.

Swing your partner . . . Jeanne Reger, Constance Whitaker, and Barbara Benda with instructor, Mrs. Kirchner, seem to enjoy the square dancing lesson.

Good sight is important to good study habits. Here a group of freshmen are having their eyes examined by Mrs. Kirchner.

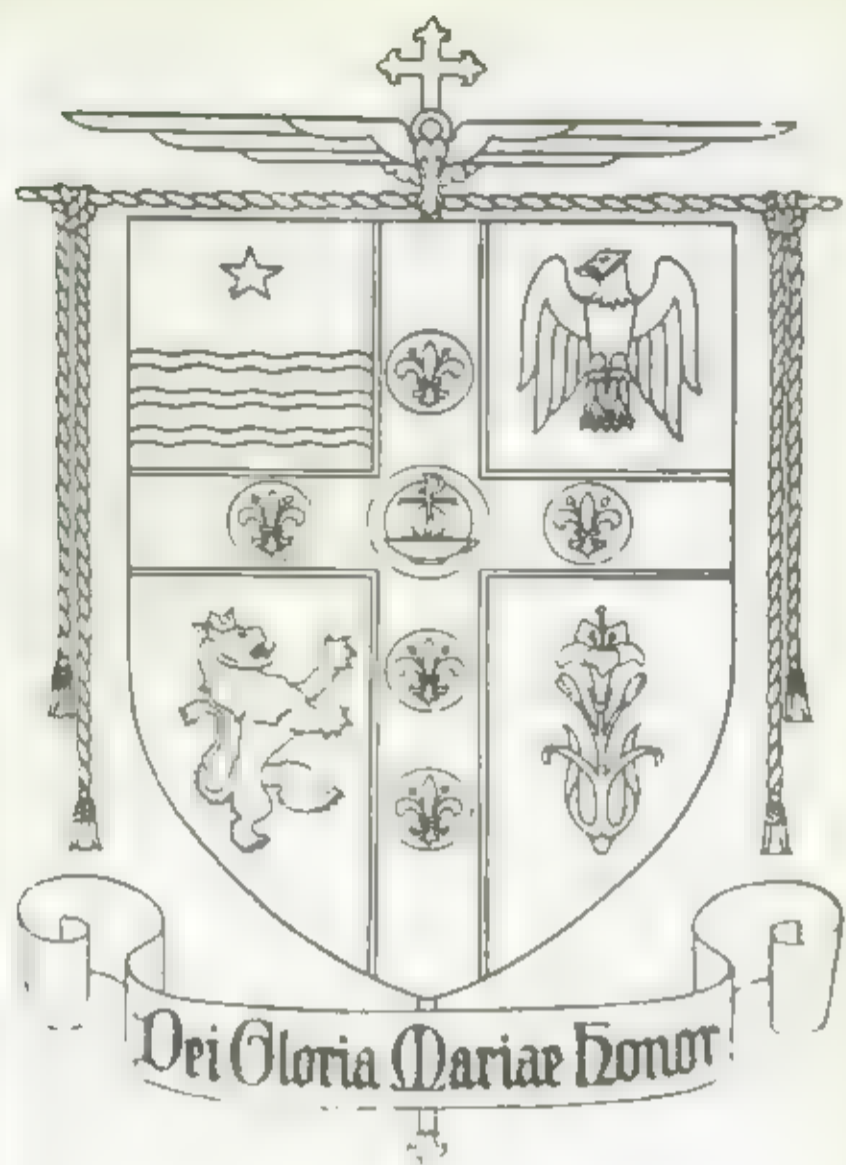

Marguerite Meredith quizzes Mary Lee Auth on the various parts of the ear, nose, and throat.

Activities

Co-ordinating school activities at Notre Dame is our Student Council headed by student leaders. Assembled here are our class officers along with Student Council officers and representatives.

In the foreground are Student Council officers: Sharon O'Brien, Nancy Chambers, Kathleen McFarland, and Ellen McGrane.

In the second line are Veronica Henahan, Jill Powell, Bernadette Gerber, Mary Ellen Ott, Carol Connolly, Lavonne Reed, Alice Duncan, Rosemary Sadoski, Sharon Schon, and Carol Paterniti.

The third row includes Nancy Nusser, Colleen Crahan, Darlene Klein, Patricia Pearce, Darla Simonis, Patricia Saeli, and Kathleen Peterson.

The last four are Irene Urritia, Linda Guitteau, Kathleen Collins, and Mary Frances Kaczmarek.

Our Ring Ceremony . . .

To the Notre Dame girl, her ring with its coat of arms bears the symbols of the ideals that permeated her years at Notre Dame

On the seal she finds a guiding star, her faith, to lead her over the sea of life. A golden eagle, bold of bearing, tells her that she must be ever strong in her religion. Below the eagle she sees a lily, elegant and pure, blossoming forth as the flower of chaste maidenhood. She notices that the lily is protected by a lion rampant serving to remind her that she too must be a valiant defender of all that is good.

Five roundels embossed upon the red cross magnify the pride that is hers for the mighty traditions that stand behind the Sisters of Notre Dame. Centered in each roundel lies the fleur de lis, the symbol of France, the country that nurtured Blessed Julie Billiart, foundress of the Notre Dame congregation.

Atop the shield rests a dove with its protective wings

. . . May 23, 1961

outstretched. As she looks upon this dove she reflects upon the guidance she has received here, so vital if she is to fulfill God's plan for her. She is reminded of the unity in her school by the cord that is draped beneath the dove. The four tassels at the cord's ends tell her of the cardinal virtues of prudence, justice, temperance, and fortitude in which she had been trained during her high-school years.

Symbolic of the lives of love and sacrifice is the golden cross. This cross and the inscription at the bottom of the shield, "Dei Gloria Mariae Honor." "To God the glory, to Mary the honor," signify her eternal end.

These ideals, symbolized in the treasured senior class ring, will be carried with her to the ends of the earth. They become realities in her life as she matures to Christian womanhood. This ring, with its traditions and significance, means more to her than the gold of which it is made, for if she lives up to the ideals for which it stands, it can be for her the gate to paradise.

Explaining the symbolism of the Notre Dame crest, these eight representatives of the class of '61 found themselves delivering a talk which but a few months earlier had been addressed to them. Pictured from left to right are: Janet Linenkugel, Mary Jo Schemenauer, Mary Lee O'Neil, Diane Gedert, Carol Smithhaler, Barbara Kohler, Ruth Ann Parlier, Annette Rawski.

Washington . . .

Washington, Gettysburg, Annapolis, and one thrilling week never to be forgotten by 66 souvenir-laden ND seniors . . . an exhausting climb up the Washington Monument . . . the long ride down the tree-lined road to Mount Vernon . . . an impressive tour through the solemn grounds of Gettysburg Cemetery.

We thrilled to a military dress parade at Annapolis and were entranced by the dramatic splendor of the Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials flood-lighted against a darkening sky.

"Oscar" became the key-word for rounding up strays. Each day we attended Mass in the soul-stirring surroundings of the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception. Together we toured the Capitol, the White House, the FBI Building. We saw our government in action and we were proud to be Americans. Senior trip was many things — all unforgettable.

Holiday Highlights,

Playing Santa's little helpers, Student Council officers Ellen McGrane, Kathleen McFarland, Nancy Chambers, and Sharon O'Brien, sort some of the 1650 Christmas cards that found their way through Santa's mailbox

With smiles radiating the Christmas spirit, Student Council members pack food and toys donated by generous NDAers for needy families. Background: Joan Moran, Nancy Chambers, Ellen DeRaedt, Kathleen McFarland. Foreground: Sharon O'Brien, Ellen McGrane, and Connie Holland.

Honored Seniors

Highlighting the final days of the senior year is the junior-senior banquet when, according to tradition, the juniors treat the seniors to a delicious meal and provide them with delightful entertainment. Here, discussing the coming graduation, are Ann Cataldo, Carol Connolly, Susan Ockuley, and Corinne Baumgartner.

Seniors reigned as queens for the day at the annual St. Lucy's Day celebration, December 13. Sporting crowns from the juniors and carnations from the sophomores, seniors Carol Connolly, Clara Bihn, Eileen Collins, Mary Alice Ludden, Judy Drewicz, and Kathleen O'Neil anticipate cashing the freshman gift—ice cream certificates.

Freshmen in Action

Taxi drivers, flappers, pumpkins, and cub scouts are gathered together for freshmen initiation. They all survived their ordeals in spite of the seniors' plans.

Climaxing the holiday season, senior Elen Maynard and her escort David Holewinski dance to the rhythm of the upperclassmen Christmas dance, Symphony In Silver

Looking lovely in her white satin and sequined sheath, Notre Dame's Student Council queen, Ellen Maynard, is surrounded by her attractive court, Jill Powell, Donna Welch, and Ann McDermott. Ellen was Notre Dame's representative to the Toledo Area Student Council Dance, Crystal Carrousel

N.D. Thespians Bring the House Down Again

"Margaret Collins," Sharon Westerman, pours coffee for one of her guests, as she and "Nancy Willard," Claudia Hook, entertain some of their friends in the opening scene. Seated are Ann McDermott, Nancy Nadorff, Mary Ann Freppel, and Veronica Henshan. Standing are Cheryl Essex, Marianne Scheller, Sharon Wesson, and Sharon Clement

"Nancy Willard," Claudia Hook is amazed at her ghostly admirer, "Nathaniel Coombes," Rick Hayward

"Now what's this about a broken bottle hitting a poor dog?" questions "Margaret" to "Parker" as Ellen de Raedt and "Officer Morrison," Robert Falke, stand by angrily, while "Charlie" and "Nancy" look on quite confused.

The four lively ghosts surrounding "Nat" are Mary Kennedy as "Katie," Donna Welch as "Priscilla," Mary Ellen Ott as "Becky," and Carol Connolly as "Sarah"

'Miss Ames' Joan Moran, reads the will as 'Parker' and 'Margaret Collins' Sharon Westerman, look on approvingly 'Nancy' remains nonchalant as 'Nathaniel' keeps his eye on her.

"McGraw" Catherine Noble, smirks as "Schwartz" Bernadette LaVigne, twists "Parker's" arm.

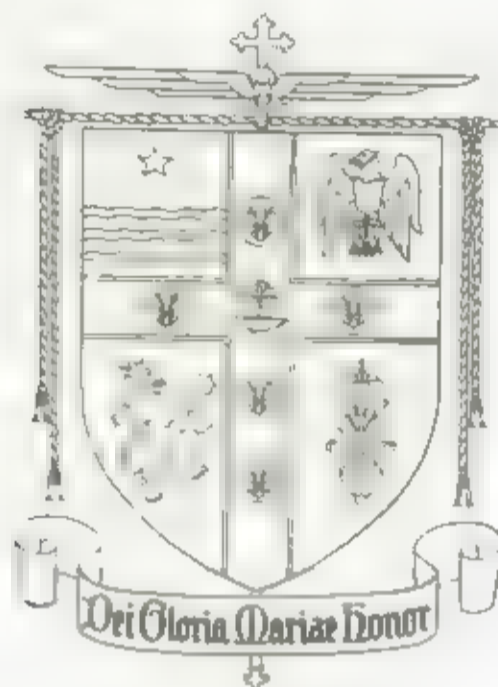

"Nathaniel" looks amused as "Parker" inherits a cute little bar maid ghost, Betty Guzicki. "Nancy" and "Mike Bailey," Thomas Herold, converse unaware of Betty's presence.

Featuring Bulletin Boards

Senior art student Ellen DeRsedt, in charge of keeping the Student Council bulletin board up to date with current activities, receives a pair of helping hands from SC President Nancy Chambers

Marlene Dantzer and Mary Frances Kaczmarek, sophomores, admire the beautiful display of Spanish art exhibited in the Art Department display case.

May Crowning

Sandra Pantee, Sodality Prefect

In the Footsteps ... of Mary

Constance Holland and Kathleen Collins look on approvingly as Prefect Sandra Peatee and Donna Welch arrange the sodality bulletin board. This is one of the many jobs of the Sodality officers.

Junior Sodality Officers meet in the chapel during one of the retreat days. Praying their rosaries before Our Lady's statue are Darlene Klein, Judy Sawicki, Diana Gabriel, and Carol Stoll.

No one is ever hungry after a Sodality bake sale. Busy selling the cup cakes and cookies are Patricia Kwasniak, Jeanne Reger, and Barbara Dugan. Proceeds helped finance the Senior Sodality's annual retreat to Carey.

Missions

Reviewing some of the activities of the school year, Mission officers Carol Paterniti, Cheryl Essex, Janice Carrico, and Diane Ford reflect on another successful year.

Zoom, zoom, zoom the Pepsi bottle cap percents hit the top. The boosters of this campaign were Jeanette Kertesz, Constance Bagrowski, Donna Burnard, and Ellen LeJeunesse.

Smiling happily in anticipation of their first important step toward the religious life are senior aspirants Mary Jo Toll, Joan Schip-pel, Elizabeth Garcia, Ann Kreinbrink, Kathleen Herold, Phyllis Ehrman, and Betty Kramer. In February these girls entered the novitiate of the Sisters of Notre Dame.

In the Service of God

Red Cross officers Suzanne Lininger, Nancy Falkowski, Christine Matuszewski, and Suzanne Konwin pack gift boxes to be sent to the needy overseas.

Freshman and sophomore RC representatives Joan Biggs, Verna Young, Margaret Ragan, and Linda Parseghian prepare to distribute membership cards to their fellow classmates.

Future Nurses

FNA officers Jane Nebauer, Sharon Westerman, Bernadette LaVigne, and Patricia Noble flank Area President Kathleen O'Neil, seated in center, as they engage in an informal discussion on the differences in nursing caps.

Returning to their alma mater to speak at a FNA meeting, ND graduates Mary Jo Schemenauer and Marie Klos outline the training program offered at St. Vincent Hospital Nursing School. Interested listeners are Linda Wenninger, Ruth Ann Lopinski, Judith Wawrzyniak, Patricia Noble, Carol Bandurski, Mary Lynn Brennan, Mary Brown, Diana Kwiatkowski, and Jane Neubauer.

ND'S Future Nurses busily work on their club project. Sewing bandages for lepers are Dianne Bick, Constance Holland, Barbara Jacobs, Linda Wenninger, and Mary Lynn Brennan. What's the matter, Mary Lynn, don't you like the sound of ripping cloth?

Science Club

Future Scientists take a quick lesson in chromatography from Sister Mary Angelus, club moderator. Listening attentively are Margaret Landowski, secretary; Carol Paterniti, treasurer; Sandra Nalepa, vice-president; and Joan Hass, president.

Math Club

There—it's as easy as 1, 2, 3, says Mary Jane Koop, secretary of the Math Club. Taking full notice are Marianna Whitman, treasurer; Rebecca Baker, vice-president; and Faith Poutney, president.

Junior Council on World Affairs

In the Junior Council on World Affairs, juniors and seniors interested in world and national problems discuss the peoples, customs, and problems of countries around the world. Above, JCWA officers Catherine Lewandowski, Sharon Wesson, Susan Stewart, Kathe Bova, and Alice Kruse make plans for UN week.

Preparing to paste the spirit of Toledo into a scrapbook bound for our New Guinea mission, JCWA members Eileen Collins, Joan Haas, and Barbara Ashburn select local landmarks to illustrate life in the "Key to the Sea."

Preparing for the JCWA College Quiz Bowl, an area project to raise money for the US Hospital Ship Hope, Notre Dame's representatives Ellen De-Raedt, Veronica Henahan, Kathe Bova and Catherine Noble look over history and government material in the library. Ellen looks a little worried

Panelists Study History

Business Club

National Business Honor Society officers Ann McDermott, Lois Lewandowski, and Patricia Kwasnik prepare a bulletin board for the business department.

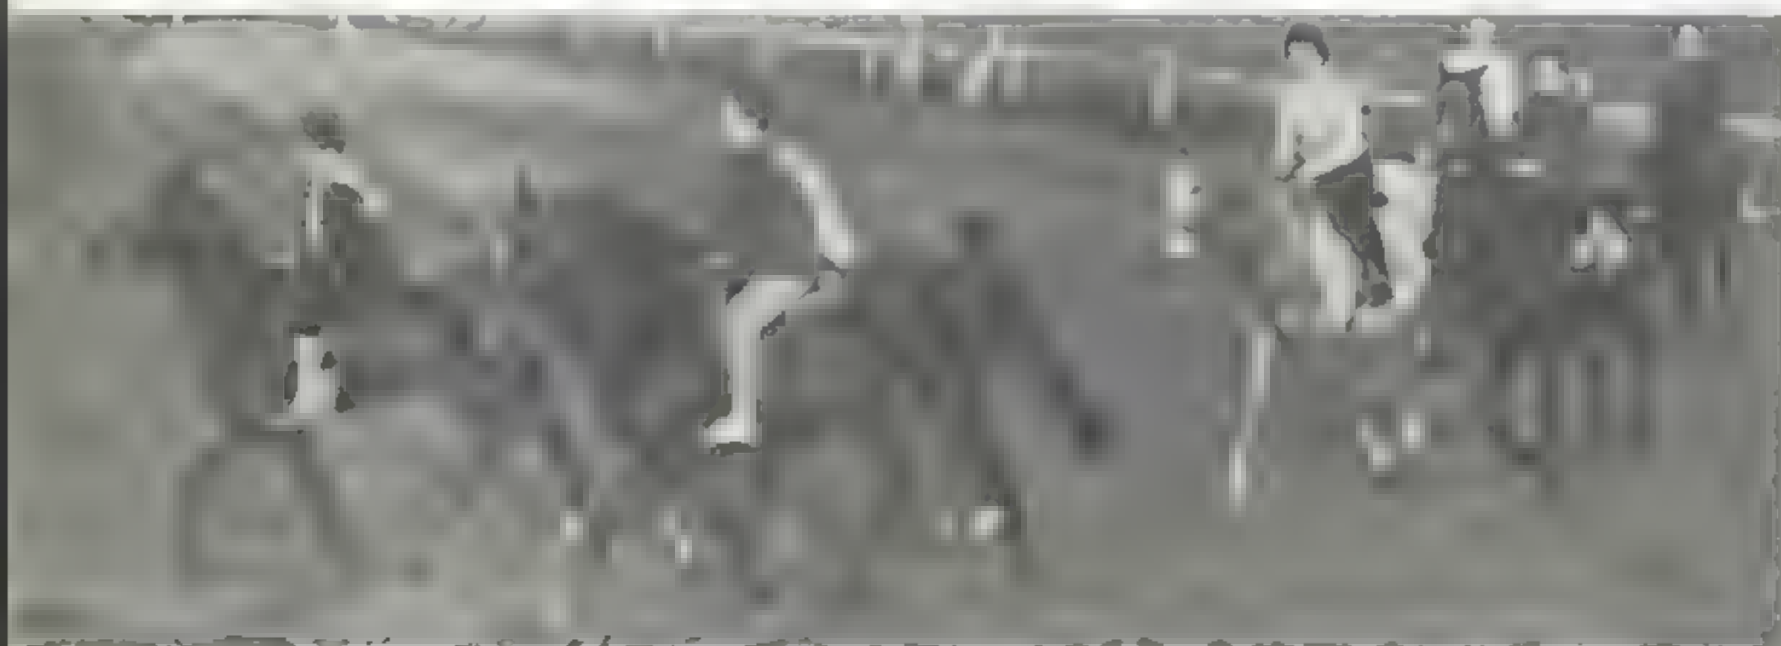

Saddle Happy

One of the many activities open to Athletic Club members is horseback riding. The spirit of the West reigns supreme for many N.D. girls who participate in this sport.

Just can't wait to get back to the barn, plenty of oats after this ride. But what are Linda Merrillat's intentions!

Kentucky Derby? No just Notre Dame's horse lovers on their weekly jaunt at Douglas Meadows. Enjoying a brisk ride in the air are Helen Huber Pat Cessna, Linda Merrillat, Pat Miller, Dustyann Tyukody, Ann Fuller, and Diane Meyers.

Back in the saddle again: Ann Fuller, Pat Cessna, Linda Merrillat, Helen Huber, Pat

Miller, Diane Meyers, Dustyann Tyukody pause a moment before their ride.

Ten Pins

Winning girls? Those smiles betray the scores of bowling enthusiasts Marilyn Klein, Patricia Quell, Kay Cox, and Barbara Babel. Now, how about a strike?

What form! With that championship concentration Ann LaPlante and Donna Brown are sure to hit the pocket.

Sharon O'Brien sadly surveys the board as Ellen deRaedt, Dianne Avery, Kathe Bova, and Mary Jane Koop try to prove that four can successfully play one game of chess. Wonder whose idea it was?

Dianne Avery, vice-president; Kathleen McFarland, treasurer; Mary Kennedy, president; and Mary Jane Koop, secretary; make the good sportsmanship pledge for all ND's Athletic Club members

Athletes

Loaded down with a wide selection of sports equipment including tennis rackets, basketballs, bowling pins, bows and arrows, and bats and gloves, athletic-minded underclassmen Colletta Bihn, Christine Connolly, and Carol Ann Koop prove that the sportswoman's life can be packed with various forms of fun.

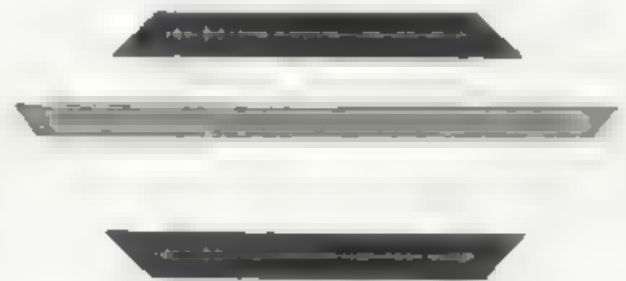

Dianne Avery watches the ball bounce as Sharon Wesson slams a fast serve to sophomores Kathleen Collins and Kathleen Frazier.

Volleyball

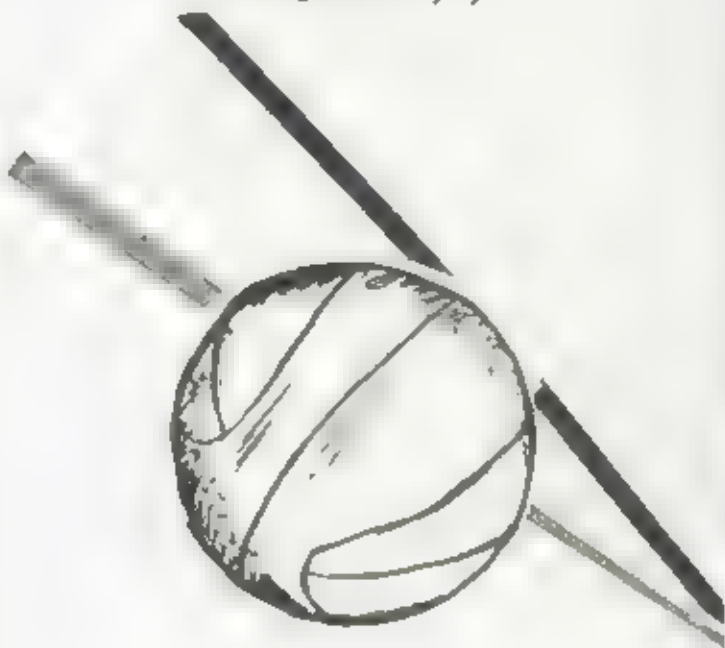

Ease it over . . . A point for our side! Freshmen and senior volleyball team vie for the championship while eager spectators look on. Sandy Avery wishes the ball over the net while Bernadette Jagodzinski waits for the return

With a 27-13 victory over their little sisters, the seniors, disheveled though they are, cannot help grinning from ear to ear. Pictured are first row: Barbara Babel, Kay Cox, Bernadette Jagodzinski, Sandra Pestee; second row: Kathe Bova, Joan Moran, Mary Kennedy, Dianne Avery, Mary Jane Koop, and Sharon Wesson.

Play-off

Sophomores and juniors competed for victory in the second preliminary game of the tournament. Cheerleaders sporting the letter of their class are juniors Mary Brown, Rosemary Sadoski, Diana Kwiatkowski, and sophomores Michele Williams, Sandra Glow, Suzanne Restivo, Darla Simonis, and Nancy Nusser. Mascots Lesleigh Jacobs and Paula Glow shoulder their shakers proudly

Play-off

Jump ball! Freshmen Kathy Lammers and senior Mary Kennedy tie up the ball while Eileen Collins is ready for action. As the final whistle blew the seniors were on top with 30 points while the freshmen had 14 points.

With arms forward, ready for action, freshman leaders Marcia Beroset, Julie Bagrowski, Diana Kumerer, Betty Feehan, and Joan Durst stand in V-Formation with senior leaders Ann McDermott, Joyce Klingaman, and Ellen DeRaedt. Gary Madrzykowski and Suzanne Beroset are the little mascots.

Senior Champs

For the third time in a row the class of '62 grabbed the championship. After a tight first quarter the seniors pulled ahead of the fighting soph squad. Senior Dianne Avery was high scorer in the game with 15 points. Carole Warrick was high scorer for the sophs with 11 points.

Senior cheerleaders Ann McDermott, Ellen DeRaedt, and Joyce Klingaman are mighty proud of their team.

Glass
Has Made
A Difference

Now is the time when you reflect upon the "good ole' days" in school — the many friends, your favorite teachers, sports and dances and parties. But when looking at today's school architecture, you must agree that glass has made a difference!

Your own school is picture-proof that school corridors do not have to be dark and dreary tunnels. No longer must walls be solid and opaque. Today, more attention is being paid to daylight and view.

When reflecting upon the advantages of this glass age, we think you'll agree that the "good new days" are better.
